

ACS FELLOWS

The ACS Fellows program began in 2009 as a way to recognize and honor members for outstanding achievements and contributions to science, the profession, and ACS. The 78 members of the class of 2015 were celebrated in a ceremony at the ACS national meeting in Boston. That brought the total number of ACS Fellows to 937. Dr. R. Gerald Bass and Dr. Carol Parish from the Virginia Section were among the new Fellows who were recognized in Boston. Their selection brings the total number of Fellows from the Virginia Section to seven. ACS fellows from the Section include:

Robert G. Bass

Department of Chemistry,
Virginia Commonwealth University

Erik J. Fernandez

Department of Chemical Engineering,
University of Virginia (2011)

Raphael M. Ottenbrite

Department of Chemistry,
Virginia Commonwealth University (2013)

Carol A. Parish

Department of Chemistry,
University of Richmond (2015)

Jeffrey I. Seeman

Department of Chemistry,
University of Richmond (2011)

Linette M. Watkins

Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry,
James Madison University (2014)

Kenneth J. Wynne

Department of Chemical and Life Sciences
Engineering, Virginia Commonwealth
University (2009)

Fernandez

Ottenbrite

Parish

Seeman

Watkins

Wynne